Dear Steve Moss,

It appears as though you are not taking my verbal request, to you, over the phone discharging you as my attorney, seriously! Let me refresh your memory about the events of that call. My son, Roger Hillygus, the successor trustee of the Hillygus Family Trust and I hand delivered to your office secretary, Cynthia, an original hand signed letter by Roger discharging you as the attorney representing me and the Hillygus Family Trust. At that time we both told Cynthia to send us any and all personal property and the complete file along with the final bill.

You called me the next day and we spoke about this, and I informed you during that phone call that I no longer need or want you to represent me or the trust. You told me that my final bill would be $2000.00 dollars. I am confirming the discharge letter written by Roger. I agree with the terms and conditions of the letter.

I am however disappointed that you are continuing to represent me after we mutually agreed to terminate our relationship. I realize that you believe me to be incapacitated, and that you think you are protecting me from my son, Roger Hilbyus. Nothing could be further from the truth. He is the ~~successor~~ trustee and the one I have always wanted to be placed in that position. So, please consider this your official notice discharging you as my attorney. You to cease and desist from any further actions, hearings or petitions with the court on my behalf, or by representing any family member.

Respectfully Yours,
Herbert Eugene Hilbyus
